Gary Fry, Global Graphics CEO comments, "A solid performance in the first half of the year keeps us on plan. It is very pleasing to see that all three operating segments have put in a strong performance and made key wins in strategic accounts.

"This achievement comes from maintaining focus on our strategy, notably the fast-growing market for inkjet solutions and for digital font technology. Innovative breakthroughs in printing software, such as our ScreenPro screening engine, make it possible for press vendors to meet the challenge of achieving high-quality at high-speed with inkjet. We have seen this particularly in the labels and packaging market. As a Group we can offer a powerful combination of software and printhead driver solutions which has opened up new relationships.

"URW continues to develop its digital font library with new releases and enhancements to existing fonts. It is delivering on its plan to expand its geographical footprint, notably into Japan and the UK and is making inroads to the US market, working with major brands on their corporate identity and with printer OEMs.

"We expect a very busy second half of the year with attendance at key industry gatherings such as the ceramics exhibition Tecnargilla in Italy, the type conference ATypl in Amsterdam, Label Expo Americas in Chicago, the Inkjet Conference in Dusseldorf, and the industrial print show InPrint in Milan."
